| Data about device | manufacturer, operating system, CPU, RAM, browser type and language, current time |
| Usage data | data we collect with cookies and similar technologies |
| Marketing and Research Information | Data for advertising and analytics purposes so we can provide the Client with better service (e.g. browser/web history data and preferences expressed through selection/viewing/purchase of goods, services and content, information about Client's mobile device including (where available) type of device, device identification number, mobile operating system.) |
| Trading experience | Information relating to the previous trading experience, personal goals, and objectives |

Other data the Client choose to give the Company.

(2) Account/Personal Area passwords are stored in the system and are not public information for employees of the Company who do not need it for the purpose of providing services to the Client.

(3) Through its Website (s), the Company will not collect any Personal Data unless you voluntarily choose to provide it (e.g., by registration, email inquiry, survey, etc.). If you do not want your Personal Data to be collected, please do not submit it.

(4) We will process your Personal Data legally and fairly and will not use it outside the purposes of which we have informed you, including selling it individually or in the aggregate for commercial use.

(5) We retain Personal Data in an identifiable format for the least amount of time necessary to fulfill our legal or regulatory obligations and for our business purposes. We may retain Personal Data for longer periods than required by law if it is in our legitimate business interests and is not directly prohibited by the applicable law. If your account is deleted, we may take steps to mask Personal Data and other Data, but we reserve our right to retain and access the data for as long as required to comply with applicable laws. We will continue to use and disclose such Personal Data in accordance with this Policy.

(6) We also collect, use, and share aggregated data, such as statistical or demographic data, for any purpose (“Aggregated Data”). Aggregated Data could be derived from your Personal Data but is not considered Personal Data by the law as this data will not directly or indirectly reveal your identity. For example, we may aggregate your usage data to calculate the percentage of users accessing a specific software feature. However, if we combine or connect Aggregated Data with your Personal Data so that it can directly or indirectly identify you, we treat the combined data as Personal Data which will be used in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

3.2. KYC

During the Know Your Client (KYC) process, we are also required by law to collect certain documentation in order to verify your true identity, which may include, but is not limited to, proof of identity in the form of Identity documents, proof of your permanent residential address in the form of a utility bill, as well as your credit card details (we request both sides of the bank card. The front side must contain the first 6 digits and the last 4 digits of the card number, the cardholder’s name, expiry date, and signature. For security purposes, we request clients cover the CVC/CVV codes on the back side). User’s card data is not stored in our systems since we do not have a PCI DSS certificate. For all that information, we rely on our Payment Providers, who are duly certified.

3.3. How We Acquire Your Data

(1) Information may come from the following sources:

- directly from you (from our communication and/or forms that you filled in)
- cookies stored in your browser by our Website
- IP-address
- other sources, including third parties and publicly available sources

(2) We may combine that with information we collect via our services.

3.4. Purposes

We collect Personal Data for the following purposes:

- (1) to authenticate your access to an account;
- (2) to manage your account and keep you updated on all matters that concern your account;
- (3) to provide the services that you have requested, including processing transactions;
- (4) to respond to your requests, for example, to contact you about a question you submitted to our customer service team;

6. YOUR LEGAL RIGHTS

In accordance with applicable law, the Client may have the right to:

- (1) Access Personal Data about the Client.

The Client may, at any time, request access to the Client's Personal Data, and the Company will provide the Client with access to that information either by providing copies of the information requested, allowing the Client to inspect the information requested, or providing the Client with an accurate summary of the information held. The Company may, prior to providing access in accordance with this Privacy Policy, require the Client to provide evidence of the Client's identity. In the event the Company refuses access to the Client's Personal Data; the Company will provide an explanation for that refusal. The Company will endeavor to respond to any request for access within 14 days depending on the complexity of the information and/or the request and may charge fees for the request of a significant amount of information to be copied or accessed.

- (2) Request correction of Client's Personal Data where it is inaccurate, incomplete, or outdated.

To assist the Company with this, please contact the Company if any details the Client has provided change. Furthermore, if the Client believes that the information the Company has about the Client is not accurate, complete, or up to date, please contact us, and we will take all reasonable steps to correct the information.

- (3) Request deletion, anonymization, or blocking of Client's Personal Data.

The Client may, at any time, request the deletion of Client's Personal Data. Please send an email: support@fbs.com to request deletion of Client's data. We undertake to perform the deletion within one month (30 calendar days). Please note that, under certain circumstances, the Company may continue to process Personal Data if required to do so by applicable law.

- (4) Request restriction of or object to our processing of Client's Personal Data.
- (5) Withdraw the Client's consent to our processing of the Client's Personal Data.
- (6) Request data portability and receive an electronic copy of the Personal Data that the Client has provided to the Company.
- (7) Be informed about third parties with which Client's Personal Data has been shared.
- (8) Request the review of decisions taken exclusively based on automated processing if that could affect data subject rights.

7. SECURITY

7.1. Retention of Records

- (1) We may be requested to retain and use your Personal Data to meet our legal obligations for data security purposes and as we believe to be fit and necessary or appropriate for purposes that include, but are not limited to,
 - a. compliance with our requirements under applicable laws and regulations;
 - b. responding to requests from courts and/or other public and governmental authorities;
 - c. monitoring through compliance and anti-money laundering processes.

- (2) We will not keep your information for any longer than the time required. In many cases, information must be kept for considerable periods of time. Retention periods will be decided, considering the type of information that is collected and the purpose for which it is collected, bearing in mind the requirements applicable to the situation and the need to destroy outdated, unused information at the earliest reasonable time. Under applicable regulations, we will keep records containing Personal Data, trading information, account opening and verification documents, communication, and anything else that is relative to the Client for a maximum of seven (7) years after the termination of the Agreement between you and our Company. In any event, we will keep your information for a minimum duration as provided in the applicable Limitation of Actions Law.

7.2. Security Measures

- (1) The Company takes precautions to ensure the security of your Personal Data and strives to keep it accurate.
- (2) We act with care to protect the Client's Personal Data from loss, destruction, falsification, manipulation, and unauthorized access or unauthorized disclosure. To do so, we have developed and will maintain security procedures to safeguard Personal Data against loss, theft, copying, and unauthorized disclosure, use, and/or modification.
- (3) Access to Personal Data is limited to the company employees and authorized service providers who require to receive it in order to perform their work.
- (4) While we will use all reasonable efforts to safeguard the Client's information, the Client acknowledges that the use of the Internet is not entirely secure, and therefore, we cannot provide any guarantee concerning the security or integrity of any Personal Data transferred from or to the Client with the use of the Internet.

8. GENERAL

8.1. Changes to the Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy may be modified from time to time, thus, check back often. To help you be aware if changes have been made, we will adjust the "Last Revised" date or "Date of publication" at the beginning of this document. The new Policy may be displayed on-screen, and you may be required to read it to continue using the Service, Product, or Website.
